"The American wheat grower is just now profiting by an almost unprecedented disaster which has over taken the wheat growers of India, Eu rope and South America.

"When wheat reached seventy five cents a bushel a Republican in West ern Nebraska pointed out that the rise was just about equal to the tariff price of woolen goods. on wheat, and attributed the rise to the Dingly law, but it would be an woolen goods is an injury to those insult to the average Republican to who wear woolen goods, unless they suppose him capable of cherishing enjoy a corresponding increase in insuch a delusion.

Mr. Bryan then quotes a statement made August 22 by President McKin lev, in which the latter said "the cause of the present boom in the west is undoubtedly due in a great measure to the large crops and high prices, caused by the failure of crops in oth er countries," and continues:

"If the Republicans desire to claim the credit for the high price of wheat, they must assume the responsibility for the famiae in India. Will any Republican convention 'point with pride' to famine as evidence that the Republican party is redeeming its campaign pledges."

"Will the Republican party pledge itself to use its best efforts to continue the famine abroad, as it pledged it self last year to promote international bimetalism.

"The most sig nificant thing about the Republicans replicing over the rise in wheat, is that in admitting the rise to be beneficial they answer the arguments made last fall by leading advocates of the gold stancard and plant themselves on the ground here tofore occupied by bimetallists.

"We were told last fall than an ap preciating dollar was a national bless ing, and yet within a year the entire Republican press is in ecstacy because the purchasing power of the dollar has been to some extent decreased.

As soon as this became known a band of deputies was loaded on a trolly car and sent whirling across the mountain to the scene where the bloody conflict followed. After reaching Latimer they left the car and formed into three companies, under Thomas Hall E. A. Hessel and Samuel B. Price. They drew up in line at the edge of the village with a fence and a line of houses in their rear.

Sheriff Martin was in command, and stood in the front of the line un til the strikers approached. They were seen coming across the ridge and Martin went out to meet them.

Some one struck the sheriff and the next moment there was a command to the deputies to fire. The guns of the deputies instantly belched forth a ter rible voiley.

The strikers were taken entirely by surprise and the men toppled and fell over each other those who remained unhurt stampeded.

The men went down before the groans of the dying and wounded illed the air. The excitement that followed was simply indescribable.

He holds that the man who occupies the high position of circuit judge, or aspires to that place ought not to shrink from speaking out upon these great questions, that affect the material welfare of the people. If the gold standard, he said, is a good thing for the people, and the free coinage of silver would be as rumous and destructive to the interests of the people as the advocates of the single gold standard claim, no man who so believes should hesitate to warn the people against those things While the office of circuit judge-the office itself-was non-political, the man who filled this office, as well as politics. Politics, he said, is the science of government, and what is there in the science that should cause any man to get above it.
